NUMBER 141.

THEY WILL RESIST IT

Democrats of Course Object to Republican Suggestions.

Senator Jones Was Chairman of the Democratic Caucus Yesterday.

WILL PRESENT UNBROKEN FRONT

Washington, Dec. 12.—All the senators elected as Democrats, with the exception of Senator McLaurin of South Carolina, were present at their caucus yesterday, as were all the senators who were elected as Silver Republicans or Populists. All the independents except Senator Teller of Colorado had entered the Democratic caucus held just before adjournment last March, but Senator Teller then remained away. He was present, however, at yesterday's conference, and participated in the proceedings. The caucus was called at the instance of Senator Jones of Arkansas, who stated that he had thought it possible that the new senators might want to make some change in the officers of the caucuses. There was, however, a general expression of satisfaction with the present officials, and Senator Jones was re-elected unanimously chairman of the caucus. The old committee on order of business also was reappointed, and the one vacancy on that committee, formerly filled by Mr. Turley of Tennessee, was filled by the selection of Senator Dubois of Idaho, who was the choice of all the Western members of the caucus.

Senator Tillman suggested that there should be frequent conferences and a continued effort to agree upon the main features of all political controversies. There was quite a general response to this suggestion, and the opinion was fairly unanimous that the party should present a united front, permitting no more straggling than was absolutely necessary.

The Democrats agreed to oppose every suggestion made by the Republicans relative to committee changes.

REMARKABLE.

The Mad Stone is Still Sticking to a Dog Bite.

It Has Been Doing Duty for the Past Month Now.

As time runs on, Miss Amelia Roark, the young woman from Greenville, Ky., who has been here for the past month with Captain Joe Fowler's madstone sticking to a foot, continues to keep it to her wounds, and it has now been sticking for several weeks.

Over a month ago she was bitten by a dog supposed to be rabid. Having faith in mad stones she came here and went to the home of Conductor Tudor, on South Eleventh street, where the stone adhered for one week, on a stretch, and then would not have come off had it not been pulled off.

She once sent it back but her wounds began to give her more trouble and soon she secured it once more and it began sticking again. All the dog bites have now healed but one small wound, and this will be well by tonight, and the mad stone will be returned.

The only thing the owner has been afraid of was that it would grow to the patient.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

PROMINENT STOCK MAN HIT WHILE CROSSING THE TRACK.

Mayville, Ky., Dec. 12.—William Boone Barkley, a prominent and wealthy stock dealer, was run over and killed by a train at midnight while crossing a track to board a train to which he had two carloads of stock.

TO ENLARGE CUSTOM HOUSE

Bill Introduced in Congress By Senator Deboe Yesterday.

Understood It Is Desired to Enlarge the Post Office Department Here.

OTHER BILLS BY SENATOR DEBOE

Senator Deboe has introduced in congress a bill for enlarging the government building in Paducah. No details of the measure are given in the reports from Washington, and nothing is known of it here.

It is probable, however, that the inspector who was here from Washington recently recommended it, and the bill may be based on those recommendations.

The only room needed at the government building is for the postoffice, which is very badly crowded. If the building were enlarged the extension would in all probability be on the western side, and be for the benefit of the post office.

The inspector, when recently here, concurred in the recommendations of Postmaster Fisher for a remodeling of the postoffice interior, moving the private mail boxes to the northeast corner, and having the stamp and money order department near the vault, on the southwestern part of the building. These changes would cost about $5,000.

If the building is enlarged it will be a great improvement, and one that will cost considerable. Both improvements would probably be made at the same time.

Other bills introduced by Senator Deboe are: One fixing the time and places for holding the regular terms of the circuit and district courts of the United States in the eastern district of Kentucky, the times are fixed as follows: At Frankfort, the first Monday in April each year and third Monday in October; at Covington, first Monday in March and fourth Monday in September; at Richmond, third Monday in April and first Monday in November; at London, first Monday in May and third Monday in November; at Catlettsburg, third Monday in May and second Monday in December. A bill for the relief of Peter Elwanger, of Louisville, Ky.

ANOTHER APPLICATION.

ST. LOUIS MAN WANTS TO ENTER LIBRARY PLANS.

Fully half a dozen architects from other places have written to the city authorities asking information about entering plans for the new public library. The last was Mr. J. L. Howard of St. Louis, from whom Mayor Yeiser this morning received a letter. All these gentlemen will in time be apprised of what is to be done, which is at present very uncertain.

UNDER ADVISEMENT.

THE COURT DID NOT DECIDE THE MINERS' INJUNCTION CASE.

Louisville, Dec. 12.—After arguments by attorneys on both sides before Federal Judge Evans in the Hopkins county mining injunction cases, the court took the cases under advisement.

$100,000 LOSS.

FIRE IN THE GOEBEL CARPET STORE AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 2.—A fire of unknown origin in the Lowery & Goebel carpet store, in which Arthur Goebel is half owner, caused the loss of one hundred thousand this evening. The loss is covered by insurance.

THE WEATHER.

Rain and warmer tonight. Friday probably rain.

See Jones' column for farm loan terms.

THE CHARITY BALL.

The charity ball at The Kentucky this evening promises to be one of the most enjoyable events in the history of Paducah, and also one of the largest. There have been sold at various places throughout the city about one thousand tickets, and doubtless many others will be disposed of before night, and just before the doors open. The people are taking a great deal of interest in the affair, and will liberally patronize it, because of its worthy object.

The stage is set for a ball room, scene, and effectively decorated in palms and flowers by the local florists, and those who desire to dance may do so, while those who do not may be seated in the audience.

The doors will open at 8:30, and an orchestra concert will be given, which will be very fine. At 9 o'clock the ball begins with the grand march. It will be a beautiful sight, and will be witnessed by many. The ladies have worked faithfully, and will no doubt see the reward of their earnest labors to aid the poor of the city.

IS NOW COMPLETE

The Planing Mill For the Illinois Central is Now Done.

It Will Be Turned Over to the Company Tomorrow Morning—Machinery Set.

THE NEW SHOP COST $30,000

Mr. J. L. Pullen, the general inspector of carpenter work of the I. C., will turn over the new shops to the company tomorrow. All the machinery except one piece has been set, and all that remains to be done is to put up the belting and to whitewash the walls. The whitewashing will be deferred for a time, but the other work will be finished by tomorrow, and Monday will see the mills in running order.

Saturday Mr. Pullen will go to Louisville to superintend the construction of a waiting room for the K. and I. road, a line of small cars run across the river between Albany and Louisville. Mr. Pullen says that the work on the shops has been pushed faster than he expected, and that the new shops are as complete as any on the system. It cost about $30,000, and replaces the one destroyed by fire several months ago.

Supt. H. P. Comstock, of the Illinois Central fire departments, was in the city yesterday and highly complimented the employees of the local shops for the excellent training and fine apparatus that are features of their local service. He also complimented Chief Wood and his excellent corps of assistants, and their fine discipline.

Roadmaster Pat Gavlin returned to Louisville this morning after a business visit to the city last night.

Roundhouse Vinyard is in Jackson on business.

Engineer Barber is on the sick list.

POOR CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS TREE

Donations For Treat Intended For Youngsters Coming In.

It Will Be a Great Event From All Indications, Serving All the Needy Poor.

MORE DONATIONS ARE DESIRED

The Sun's plan to give the poor children of the city a Christmas tree is meeting with a very hearty approval, and donations are coming in well. From a subscriber in Louisville yesterday there came a little gift with the "best wishes for your laudable work."

It is the management's wish to make this an event for all the poor children of the city, and we want the name of every deserving child sent to us. Therefore we will ask our friends, if they know of any deserving child anywhere in the city, to kindly send us the name and to do so at once. The undertaking is a big one, for there is a great number of children in Paducah who do not know what a Christmas tree is, and who will never enjoy one's pleasures unless something of this sort is done.

To serve the number will require a big lot of gifts. As stated above, the donations are coming in as well as we anticipated. Still we have use for more—a great deal more. We therefore must beg of our friends. If you are among the few who have not contributed to the fund, we would appreciate it very much if you would lend us your assistance, and give us a donation of some sort. We don't care what the nature of the gift is, anything will be acceptable.

To the children of the city we wish to say: Can you not spare a mite from your Christmas money for some of the unfortunate little ones of the city: can you not send us something that will make a young heart glad on the glorious festival? This is a work for us all. Let "all" attend to it. Send your contributions to The Sun 115 South Third street.

The Sun has removed to the old News stand, 115 South Third street.

THE FIRST ACQUITTAL

Tennie Wright Adjudged Not Guilty of Malicious Shooting.

The Case Against Oscar Ross For Grand Larceny on Trial This Afternoon.

SHORT SESSION OF POLICE COURT.

CIRCUIT COURT.

There has been one acquittal, the first this term, in circuit court. Tennie Wright, colored, was acquitted of the charge of malicious shooting, the jury returning a verdict of not guilty after having been out a short time only. Attorney Isom Townsend, colored lawyer, was her attorney. This was his first case in the circuit court.

The false swearing case against Ulrich Beyer was continued.

The following cases were filed away: Lucinda Schruggs, P. Dismukes and J. Kelley. In the case of Ernest C. Jansson against the Paducah Brewing company, a transfer of bid was made and a deed to James Collins made over by the commissioner.

At press time grand larceny case against Oscar Ross, alias Chas. Rhodes, was on trial. Ross is alleged to have stolen $25 from huckster some time ago, and was held over by Judge Sanders. He now claims that he found the money on the seat of the wagon, and that he did not steal it.

John Tally of the city was brought into Paducah this morning from Mayfield to appear in the Irene Clements grand larceny case as a commonwealth witness. He was recognized in the case this morning to the sum of $100.

Abe Maroffsky pleaded guilty to selling liquor on Sunday in two separate cases, and was fined $10 and costs in each case.

Ed Drennan and Ed Pierson pleaded guilty to selling liquor on Sunday and were fined $15 and costs for the offense.

The grand larceny case against Irene Clements, who is accused of having stolen several hundred dollars from Frank Sanderson of Mayfield, was continued until the second day of the April term of court.

The case against Emma Washington was continued.

Ernest Halberstadt, who cut Frank Robinson, several weeks ago, failed to show up, and his bond was declared forfeited. Mr. Ed Hannon, his employer, went his bond, which was $300.

COUNTY COURT.

The colt case is up in Judge Emery's court. The case was partially tried several days ago, but was continued over by motion. The style of the case is F. Gohson against Henry Gray, a suit for $40 damages, the value of a colt killed by the defendant's mule.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

Marriage license was yesterday issued to the following couple: Frank Croker of the city, aged 29, a fireman, to Emma Hulsey, of the city, aged 21. It is the first marriage of both.

SHERIFF-ELECT GIVES BOND.

POLICE COURT.

Leake Clements, colored, charged with a breach of the peace, was granted a continuance.

Jack Dennis, a stranger, was fined $1 for a drunk.

The grand larceny case against James and Irene Barbee, colored, charged with stealing Miss Irene Scott's diamond ring, was dismissed. No evidence could be found against them, except the fact that the woman worked at the house about the time the ring was missed.

PADUCAH PEOPLE MARRIED

Brilliant Nuptials of Miss May Terrell and Mr. Samuels.

The Wedding of Two Paducah People at Memphis Last Evening.

CUPID VERY BUSY AT PRESENT

Beautiful in detail and ensemble was the wedding of Miss May Terrell to Mr. Leslie B. Samuels of Bardstown at Grace Episcopal church last evening. The church altar was effectively decorated in palms and ferns, with the graceful southern smile a charming feature. Long before the appointed hour the crowd began to gather, until the church was taxed to its utmost capacity with the friends and acquaintances of one of the most universally popular of Paducah's charming society girls. Although arranged for an elaborate evening ceremonial, a marked quietness and simplicity was in evidence, and the reception having been called off, the full evening dress of society was lacking, that would otherwise have added a more festive air to the charming scene.

To the strains of the "wedding march," played by Miss Jessie Nash, the wedding party entered. First came the ushers, Mr. C. W. Thompson and Abram L. Well, Mr. Will Bradshaw and Mr. Clint Terrell of Cairo; then Miss Hattie Terrell and Miss Mary Boswell, followed by Mr. Roy Culley and Judge Daugherty of Bardstown, Miss Josephine Samuels of Bardstown and Miss Elizabeth Sinnott came next, and then Mr. Wallace Well and Dr. Wells of Bardstown. The bride entered with her sister, Miss Minnie Terrell, the maid of honor. At the altar they were met by Mr. Samuels and his best man, Hon. Eli H. Brown of Bardstown. A beautiful picture was formed as the truth was pledged, and the ceremony impressively said by the Rev. B. E. Reed, rector of the church.

The bride wore an elegant bridal gown of embroidered chiffon, with veil. Her one ornament was a handsome diamond and pearl pendant, the groom's gift. The bridal bouquet was lilies of the valley, and roses. Always beautiful, she seemed more than ever radiant and lovely.

The bridesmaids were charmingly gowned in white silk, and carried American Beauty roses, an appropriate symbol of the bride herself, and looked very lovely. The maid of honor was very charming in an artistic white silk gown with bride roses.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the occasion were Mrs. C. D. Samuels and Mrs. A. D. Carothers, mother and sister of the groom, and Judge John Kelley, all of Bardstown; and Mr. and Mrs. Mott Ayres of Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuels left last night for an Eastern trip. The bridal party, except Mr. Brown and Miss Samuels, left then also, for home. Mr. Brown left today at noon, and Miss Samuels remained over several days to visit Miss Minnie and Miss Hattie Terrell.

The wedding of Miss Georgia McGrew and Mr. Gus Edwards of Paducah took place at the Peabody hotel, in Memphis, at 6 o'clock last evening, Rev. W. K. Penrod officiating. The Memphis Commercial-Appeal of today says:

"A marriage with a tinge of romance to it occurred yesterday evening at 6 o'clock in the parlors of the Peabody hotel. The contracting parties are from Paducah, Ky., and while it was stated that there was no runaway feature in the match, it was somewhere near the borders of Greta Green.

"Miss Georgia McGrew is the happy bride, or that was her name previous to 6 p. m. yesterday. Now it is Mrs. A. G. Edwards. Mrs. Edwards arrived in the city over the Illinois Central yesterday, and Miss McGrew about the same time via

Observationsat Random

L. G. Mercer, a theatrical manager, at present with "Quo Vadis," told a story at the Grand the other day of a hotel experience which he had some years ago at Streator, Ill., says the New York Times.

"There was only one hotel in the town, and I either had to stop there or camp out. It was night when I registered. In assigning me a room the proprietor warned me that his service was not good. I discovered that he was truthful.

"My room was a double one on the top floor. Tired, I soon was fast asleep.

"About 10 o'clock I was awakened by rain falling on my face. Thinking it might be only a small leak, I moved to the other side of the bed. It, too, was wet. I rang for the porter and asked for a dry room. He said it was no use, that all leaked.

"Try the other bed," he added, "if that, too, is wet, ring and I'll bring you an umbrella."

"The other day I was fairly stumped," says a bookseller to a New York Times man, "when a party came in and asked me if I had 'Wait a Minute.'"

"Never heard of it," said I.

"That is funny," he answered, "it is being talked about, and I am anxious to read it."

"I looked all over my book lists and satisfied myself that there was no such book in existence, and he went away disappointed, and with an impression, I fear, that I was not keeping what I take pride in—a first class book store.

"The day following, however, he came back smiling and asked for 'Tarry Thou 'Till I Come.' He had taken the precaution this time to write the title down."

Sometimes the modest, diffident man appears to disadvantage, and wishes he had been more inquisitive. An instance was noted the other day in a local establishment. A well dressed man entered and inquired of the young lady who advanced to learn his business "Is the manager in?"

"No," she replied, "he is not in. Is there something I can do for you?"

He informed her in a manner indicating that he would disdain to transact business with a personage of less importance than the manager, that there was nothing she could do for him, so she proceeded to ignore him, and he took a seat near the stove.

"After he had been there about an hour, he arose, and looking at the young lady, who was busy at her desk, asked, 'Can you tell me when the manager will be in?'"

"Yes sir," she replied, "he will probably be in some time tomorrow afternoon. He is out of the city today."

The man departed in anything but a pleasant frame of mind, and will doubtless ask more questions next time.

The Maropolis Herald thus pokes fun at a new contemporary:

"Golconda has a new paper. The old world will probably stop and take a couple of hitches at his suspenders when this startling information is heralded abroad. It isn't the first time Golconda has had a new journalistic career break in, on its otherwise peaceful preserves. Golconda is used to such. But this new paper is different. That is I reckon it is. I have never seen anything like it.

"G. A. Rose, the managing editor, was formerly editor of the new paper's predecessor, Baile's Bugle, which bugled itself out of existence about 'steven weeks ago. He very gravely announces: 'I expect to do as I done before.' Who will dare dispute it? But not content with 'doing as he done before,' this seer of the pencil has taken another, a man hitherto unacquainted with the mysteries of the noble profession. This gentleman is frank, and in his introductory gets right to the point. He says: 'I will add it is my intention to embrace every opportunity to make the News the best independent, non-political, general, current and inspiring newspaper in Southern Illinois.'

"Say, don't that sound good? And I'll bet he does it, too. Law me; when you want a paper that'll astonish the natives and make the Czar of Russia catch his breath in short jerks, you want to get some fellow in charge of the editorial department who never knew anything about newspaper doin'."

"Then listen to this final climax of the whole affair: 'We merely want to state our motto is 'live and let live,' and our office is over Pierce's Sons' store.'

"Notice how perfectly those two thoughts blend together! Isn't it just too sweet?"

"Rah for Golconda."

A peculiar occurrence was witnessed at Dave Martin's barber shop, on Broadway, yesterday. A rat that had ventured too far from headquarters found that it was discovered, and made a leap for a hole some little distance away. A string chance to be stretched across the hole, and the rodent, in some inexplicable manner, struck it in such a way that the string closed around its neck in as neat a noose as human hands could have devised, and the unfortunate creature hanged by its own act, helplessly dangled and kicked until life was extinct. Some of the witnesses think it was a case of suicide, but others consider it only one of those peculiar accidents heard of only occasionally.

MEDICAL EXPERTS TESTIFY.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Three medical experts gave testimony yesterday at the trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, charged with killing Census Clerk Ayres, attempting to show the close range at which the fatal shots were fired. Dr. Sterling Ruffin testified that the chest wound inflicted on Ayres must have been from a shot fired when the pistol was from five to eight inches distant from the body. Dr. Carr and Bovero also gave testimony along the same lines, showing the results of experiments designed to prove the close range at which the fatal shots must have been fired.

At the afternoon session the defense announced its side closed. The case probably will go to the jury Thursday evening or Friday morning.

KILLING AT CAIRO.

Cairo, Ill., Dec. 12.—Harrassed by parties who had been annoying him many nights, William Hicks blazed away last night with a shotgun and instantly killed James Turner. Both men are colored. Hicks was watching men at the lumer yards of the C. O. Mengel, Jr. and Bros. Lumber company. The yards are located east of Sycamore street above Fortieth street. When the affair was over, Hicks stepped to the telephone and notified the police of what he had done. Officers Hoagland and Cowell went up and arrested him and brought him down to the city jail. They found Turner with his left breast almost torn away by the charge. The affair occurred about 8 o'clock.

NEW KENTUCKY CORPORATIONS.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 12.—Incorporation articles have been filed in the office of the secretary of state as follows: The Seelbach Hotel company, of Jefferson county, with $200,000 capital stock, and Louis, Otto and Charles Seelbach as incorporators.

The Danville Electric Power and Railway company of Boyle county, with $10,000 capital stock and Geo. Anderson, C. R. McDowell and H. W. Wiseman as its head.

The Russell County Oil and Gas company, with $2,500 capital stock.

The Merit Pants company of Graves county, increases the amount of its capital stock from $40,000 to $100,000.

AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

The Retail Grocers' association entertained with a "smoker" about 100 people last night at Odd Fellows hall and the occasion was a most enjoyable one. Mr. S. A. Fowler was toastmaster, and an address was made by Mr. W. H. Farley, explaining the purposes of the organization. Mr. Young Taylor responded on behalf of the guests. Refreshments were served in the ante room after the speaking.

The Onion Tombstone.

In a cemetery near Evansville, Ind., is a stone known as the "Onion Tombstone." Drooping gracefully over one corner of the slab as if just pulled and laid there, is the marble semblance of a bunch of young onions. Beneath is the date of the birth and death of the woman who sleeps in this peculiarly marked grave. The only explanation the sexton has to offer is that Aunt Betsy liked onions to eat better than anything else and often said that she did not want flowers or verses on her tombstone, but just a bunch of onions.

No Tax Bogies.

In the matter of taxation the Isle of Man is unique. There is no income tax, no succession duties chargeable against the estates of deceased persons, no highway or turnpike tolls. Roads are maintained by the revenue from two sources: A small tax upon every wheel and shod hoof, and a levy upon every male inhabitant, who must give a day's work on the road or its equivalent in cash. There are no stamp duties on receipts, checks, promissory notes, etc.; in fact, stamps are only used for postage.

LOWLY ORIGIN OF NOBLE QUOTATIONS.

Nothing in the curiosities of literature is so interesting as the "evolution" of popular quotations. Many of the finest and most beautiful aphorisms and sayings spring from mean and obscure literary parentage. Some are the result of ridiculous perversion of the intended signification, and a larger number are due to deliberate or unconscious misrepresentation. To accident, chance remarks of inferior writers or orators, we owe not a few of our grandest proverbial expressions.

This general fact is emphasized and abundantly illustrated by Prof. J. Churton Collins, the well known English critic and severe censor of contemporary book reviewers, in an article on "Popular Quotations" in the New Liberal Review. He begins with some instances of perversion:

"We all know the famous line in Shakespeare, and a most beautiful truth it seems, worthy to stand beside Terrence's equally beautiful expression of catholic sentiment, "Homo sum; humani nihil a me alienum puto"—"I am a man, and think nothing that concerns man indifferent to me." But misconception and the suppression of the context have given its beauty to it, for nothing could have been further from Shakespeare's intention than the meaning which has been attached to it. The line occurs in "Troilus and Cressida," and simply means that all mankind have this in common, that they delight in novelty.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin,"

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."

That all with one consent praise newborn gawds."

"Again, we all know the proverb, 'As the tree falls, there shall it lie,' supposing it to mean that a man's fate after death will be determined by his state when he dies, thus attaching to it a most solemn moral. But a reference to the source of it, that is, the eleventh chapter of Ecclesiastes, shows that nothing can be more remote from its true meaning. All that is meant is that the discharge of rain from the clouds and the inclination of a falling tree, in other words, the times and seasons, are in the hands of God, and out of the husbandman's control, and all that concerns him is to be diligent about the work which he has in hand. Another curious perversion, but a perversion made as early as Seneca, is the oft-quoted 'Art is long and time is short.' This is the first of the aphorisms of the Greek physician Hippocrates, and what he means is that the critical moment when medical assistance can be of avail is soon passed, but that medical science is slow and laborious, and so not up to time. The erroneous substitution of a future tense for a present has given us the celebrated 'Magnus est veritas et praevalabit'—'Great is truth and it will prevail'.

The quotation is from the Vulgate version of the forty-first verse of the fourth chapter of Ecclesiastes, third book, where, it has no such meaning as we, by turning a present tense into a future, attach to it, but simply means, great is truth, and might above all things. But perhaps the most extraordinary instance of perversion is the well known English proverb, 'First catch your hare and then cook it.' It has always been assumed that this precept is to be found in Mrs. Glasse's celebrated book on cookery, a work well known to our great grandmothers. But what Mrs. Glasse says is something very different. She is giving directions for what is called 'chasing' the hare, that is, for wrapping it in paper and basting it with gravy, and in describing this process in cookery she says, 'first catch your hare, and eat of this misconception has sprung the proverb.'

The proverb, "Curses, like young chickens, come home to roost," is supposed to come from some Greek writer; it was uttered by a cracked, half-witted fellow named Tyler, a relative of Sonthey. "A poet is born, not made," comes from Roman historian of no note or consequence, who was incapable of so immortal a saying, but who simply said that "not every year is a king or poet born."

"'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view," has its germ in a couplet to be found in Garth's "Dispensary." The line in "Lochiel's Warning"—"Coming events cast their shadows before"—was dictated to Campbell in a dream. On waking from sleep he found himself repeating "events that are coming cast their shadows before." Thus, allowing for a slight verbal alteration, a dream gave us what is now a household word."

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARIES.

A CONFERENCE TO LAST TWO DAYS AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Dec. 12.—A meeting of state secretaries of the Young Men's Christian association, which is to last two days, began at the Grand Hotel yesterday. While the meeting was an informal one, and not subject to a call upon the part of any state secretary, about fifteen secretaries from different states and cities came to discuss in general the work of the association and steps that would have a tendency to improve it. Among the members who were here today were: J. E. Brown of Chicago, F. E. Anderson of Milwaukee, Frank H. Burt of St. Louis, R. R. Dodge of Chicago, W. W. Brockman of Louisville, S. W. McGill of Nashville, John Lake of Louisville, S. M. Baird and E. B. Buckner of Harrisburg, Pa., and Henry E. Rosevear of Kentucky, besides a number of Ohio and Cincinnati secretaries.

HEART TROUBLE.

Thousands Unduly Alarmed About That Dreaded Heart Disease.

Americans in their mad struggle for wealth or position—scheming, planning, executing or toiling, seldom give a thought to the great sacrifice they are making of their health. A gradual feeling of exhaustion comes on, the appetite fails, sleeplessness follows, then the blood is giving out, the memory becomes treacherous. At times the head becomes dizzy, the heart palpitates, burns, feels dull and sore. Don't make the hasty conclusion that you have heart disease—it's your stomach. The heart and stomach are controlled by the same great nerves—the sympathetic—vagus plexus. One form of poor digestion causes a gas and fermentation of half digested food—hence palpitation and short breath. The blood becomes thin and watery, irritating and weakening the heart. The surest, quickest way to relieve such trouble is to make perfect digestion with regular doses at meal times of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which can be had at most druggists in 50 cent and $1 bottles. (It's economy to buy the dollar size). Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will cure any form of stomach trouble (except cancer of the stomach). It is pleasant to take and in causing perfect assimilation of the food cures constipation (not by irritation) but by removing the cause. Book and sample for the asking. Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill., U.S.A.

It enables the blood to receive and retain its natural supply of oxygen, lung food, health, strength. In any Cough, Lung or Bronchial affection no remedy is so helpful.

RENEWED PLEA FOR STATEHOOD.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The annual report of Gov. Otero of New Mexico, renews the plea for statehood and says the federal census returns for 1900 do the territory a great injustice. He says the population of the territory, based on careful estimates, should be at this time 313,191, including Indians. He likewise takes exception to the census statistics for mining, stock raising, agriculture, horticulture, timber, coal and iron industries and attributes the alleged discrepancy in the figures to inadaptability of the present system to sparsely settled mountain sections of this country.

Henry Watterson of Kentucky on "Kentucky and Massachusetts."

THE MAN WITH THE APPLE.

A Clever Scheme Successfully Worked on Chicago Jewelers.

A distinguished looking stranger with white hair and white beard strolled into a State street jewelry store the other day, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, and asked to see some diamond rings. The clerk reached for them, leaving one tray filled with expensive rings on top of the showcase. "Here they are," he said, placing the second tray beside the first. As he did so the tall man, who had been munching at a fine russet apple, threw the core into the street. He and the clerk went over the rings in the trays, but he could find none that he wanted to buy. As he turned to go the clerk discovered that a ring worth $250 was missing. The clerk disliked to accuse the distinguished-looking stranger of having stolen the ring. There was prospect of a suit for damages against his employer and his own discharge if the accusation should be found groundless. Still, if he let the man go away with the ring it would mean that he would have to pay for it. Torn between these positions the clerk finally insisted that the customer must have seen the ring. "Of course I saw it. I had it in my hand only a moment ago. Ah, I catch your meaning. You want to infer that I— Be careful, sir; you do not know who I am. I won't put up with any such nonsense." The stranger despite his protests, was searched, but the ring was not found. The jeweler was apprehensive of a big suit for damages until the detectives found that the tall man is an old-time thief, who wins out often on the strength of his impressive appearance. The way he got away with the ring was to slip it into the half-eaten apple he held in his hand and then throw it into the street, where a confederate picked it up and got away, and the tall man could stand a search with safety.

A Modest Hero.

Private Gonichiro Ono belonged to the Japanese engineering corps sent to China last year. He is the hero who, risking his own life, blew open the Chang-Yang gate, the destruction of which led to the fall of Peking. When he came home recently to his native town, Okayama, the folks there wanted to hold a grand banquet in his honor, but Private Ono was very firm in refusing all such demonstrations, protesting that he would prove false to the real spirit of patriotism with which he had always served his country if he were vain enough to allow himself to be lionized for the insignificant part he had taken in the attack.

Cuban Smoking.

Cuba produces no tobacco for chewing or pipe smoking. The Cubans who smoke pipes may be counted on one's fingers without making a second round on the fingers. The cigar and the cigarette prevail. To what extent the Cuban cigarette might ever become popular with American smokers is a matter beyond determination. It is certain that most Americans of prolonged residence there become, if they are smokers, addicted to Cuban brands, and find difficulty in weaning themselves back to American brands on their return.

DAILY THOUGHT.
"No man finds his work till he loses himself in it."

It is very gratifying to learn that congress is to have a holiday.

The English in yielding to popular demand, have decided to modify their concentration camps. This is regarded as favorable to the peace party.

The labor men of Illinois have formed an association for raising funds among union men for the McKinley monument in Canton. They have made an excellent start and the members of the association are very enthusiastic.

It seems probable that we are to have a little more excitement down among our South American neighbors. It never amounts to much, but affords the natives a good opportunity to work off some of their surplus pugnacity.

The plan suggested in a contemporary of members of the council donating the salary they receive as councilmen, $3 each for every regular meeting, to the Civic Federation, will be generally indorsed by the public. It will perhaps be more so as the new council begins to get down to work and displays the stupendous ability of some of its members.

It will not be so pleasant to hold a police job under the new regulations, as it has been under the old. While the rules are somewhat strict, they are no stricter than some of those that are now on the books, and are not enforced. The new ones insure men who are neat in dress and clean in morals. It is to be hoped that the new regulations will not become dead letters, as the old ones have.

Over in Rome they have some excitement at the play occasionally. The other day when d'Annunzio's new play, Francesca da Rimini, was given its first production, a demonstration was created that resulted in the audience being divided into two camps. They applauded and fought and many were wounded, but it didn't stop the play. The audience had probably been reading about football.

The Commercial club's suggestion that a series of excursions be run into Paducah to acquaint people with our city, its natural advantages, and its many mercantile establishments is a good one. It was considered once before, but the plans failed to materialize. Many other cities less favorably situated than Paducah have made a success of the excursions, and they would doubtless become very popular in this section, as there is a large area of country and a vast population to draw from. The excursions are free to those who desire to come on them and after they get here and are made familiar with our many advantages they would begin to do all their trading here, would look forward to the excursions as a source of both profit and pleasure, and many would doubtless be induced to come here and make their homes among us.

The coveted improvements in the Ohio river and tributaries may not be secured from the present congress. While the fact that no member of the Kentucky delegation is on the rivers and harbors committee may have no significance, yet it is not very favorable. There are always hundreds of river improvement bills before the committee, and those that we are all interested in may be pigeon-holed for those deemed more important by the members of the committee. It would doubtless be much better if we had a member of our own delegation on the committee to look after our interests, but the present status instead of discouraging anyone, should cause redoubled energy in the work. The Ohio Valley Improvement Association has not been idle, and doubtless will not be, and it is to be hoped that we will get at least a part of what we are after.

The people of this end of the state do not know County Judge Moore, of Frankfort, but he must be a very contemptible sort of a fellow. He happened to go the home of the jailer of that county a few days ago, and found the family at dinner. He was invited to remain, and accepted. He found two of the prisoners who were in the custody of the jailer, and for whom the jailer only was responsible, at the table, and went off and told of it, giving the Goebel organs another excuse to come out with the usual amount of misrepresentation. They made it appear that the county judge had been invited to dine with alleged murderers, while the fact was that the jailer, the county judge being at his home at the dinner hour, could not observe the rules of hospitality without inviting the county judge to dine with him. After the Goebel organs had worked the "sensational" for all it was worth, the jailer came out in an authorized statement giving the facts, and showing up the county judge in his true light. The county judge, to get even, has now ordered extra guards to be placed around the jail, claiming that they are necessary to prevent the escape of the prisoners. The jailer declares that there is no danger, and the prisoners could not work their way out of jail with the best of tools in a night. Yet the county judge, to show his petty spite and rankling vindictiveness, is making the tax-payers pay for guards that are there only to show his resentment towards another official. The whole state is full of those kind of Democratic officials.

DREW A PISTOL.
MRS. EVITTS CHARGED WITH MISTREATING HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Francis Evitts, of South Sixth street, walked into the city hall this afternoon about 2:30 and was promptly arrested. She was taken into custody on a warrant charging her with drawing a pistol on her husband, Jim Evitts, and threatening to kill him. More arrests will follow as Mrs. Evitts herself, had come to the city hall to procure a warrant against her husband for living with another woman. She was not aware that a warrant had been sworn out against her and wept when placed under arrest.

The trial will take place in the police court tomorrow.

ONE PADUCAHAN.
GETS A PLACE ON STATE BAR ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE.

President Mackay, of the recently organized Kentucky Bar Association, has appointed his committee. The only Paducahan getting a place is Hon. Wm. Reed, who is on the grievance committee.

Mrs. J. H. Rowland of Cloverport, Ky., returned home at noon today, after a four weeks' visit to relatives here.

ALWAYS IN SIGHT

Crowded street. People passing by. Old and young. All eager about their own affairs and always somebody in plain sight who needs Scott's Emulsion.

Now it's that white-haired old man; weak digestion and cold body. He needs Scott's Emulsion to warm him, feed him, and strengthen his stomach.

See that pale girl? She has thin blood. Scott's Emulsion will bring new roses to her face.

There goes a young man with narrow chest. Consumption is his trouble. Scott's Emulsion soothes ragged lungs and increases flesh and strength.

And here's a poor, sickly little child. Scott's Emulsion makes children grow—makes children happy.

NO MORE MAYOR'S ORDERS

Mayor Yeiser Will Not Advance Money—Must Be Allowed.

Mayor Lang Said to Have Lost By His Desire to Be Accommodating to City Employees.

THE COUNCIL MUST ALLOW MONEY

Mayor D. A. Yeiser has inaugurated a change in the manner of paying out city money. During Mayor Lang's administration, for the convenience of those working for the city, or having accounts against the city, money was often advanced on the mayor's order, and afterwards allowed by the council. This was done solely to accommodate those who had money coming to them. If the council had not allowed the bills, or accounts, the mayor would have had to personally sustain the loss.

It is said that ex-Mayor Lang did lose considerable advancing money that the person he accommodated failed to earn, and he had to pay the orders himself.

At any rate, it is the belief of Mayor Yeiser that while it is a good and desirable plan for persons who are in a hurry for their money and do not desire to wait two weeks until the council meets and allows the bills, it is at the same time bad policy for the city, and he has stopped it.

Quite a number of persons who had been in the habit of getting orders for money or goods have called since Mayor Yeiser went into office to draw money, and were told they would have to wait for the council to meet and allow it. The city has money, says Mayor Yeiser, but it has to be allowed by the council before any of it will be paid out.

Mayor Yeiser states that he has decided on this change because it is best for the city. He has profited by his past experience, having formerly himself practiced the same plan practiced by Mayor Lang. The latter now regards it as a bad policy, and advised his successor not to attempt it. Hereafter, therefore, none except the day laborers who work on the streets and elsewhere for the city, will receive their pay in advance. Firemen, policemen and others paid by the month must wait until the council allows their money.

HERE AGAIN.

Manager Smith Will Ask That a Telephone Franchise Be Sold.

Desires to Establish a Long Distance Line to Paducah.

Manager Smith of the Metropolis telephone exchange, who was in the city a few days ago to consult Mayor Yeiser relative to obtaining a franchise to establish a long distance exchange here, was here again today.

His plans are taking definite shape. Manager Smith says that all he wants to do is to give the 1,500 or more telephones at Metropolis and that section of the country connection with the people on this side of the river. The merchants, principally are urging the enterprise and will give it pecuniary aid.

Manager Smith states that there are two ways to give the people this connection one is by building a cable across the river and extending a line to Paducah, and the other is by getting connection through the Cumberland Telephone company, which controls the only cable across the river here.

Unless the Cumberland people give the Metropolis people connection, the only other way will be to build the cable. Mr. Smith states that this will probably have to be done, as it is the policy of the Cumberland company to connect with no other line.

Mr. Smith will ask the council at its next meeting to offer a franchise for sale. He does not intend or desire to establish a telephone exchange in Paducah, having no capital for such a big undertaking, but wants a long distance station, enabling him to extend his telephone facilities to the people on this side of the river. He will return Monday.

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE Mother's Friend.

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is when nature has chosen her to become a mother. Every faculty is keenly alert and her nature the finest as she foresees the joy, the ambition, the success and the life-long satisfaction coming, coming nearer, day by day, in the dear and innocent being so soon to see light, and the very uncertainty whether she shall see a sweet girl face or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow, adds zest to her expectancy. Then, if ever, she should take care of her physical, mental and moral health.

MOTHER'S FRIEND applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded, calm nerved and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced for months by the continued use of Mother's Friend.

Horse Empties All the Laundry on the Levee.

Then Dumped Mr. Thompson's Wagon into the River.

There was a great deal of misdirected energy displayed by a horse attached to one of the little white wagons of the Thompson laundry this morning about 8 o'clock. It might have been used in a worthier cause but it wasn't.

The horse was left standing in front of the New Richmond when it took fright and ran away. Skirting the top of the levee, and missing nothing large enough to hit, it pursued its tortuous course around back of the flour mill, and then turned and started back to annihilate all that it had missed the first time. The wagon up to that time was full of freshly laundered goods. It was soon empty, however, the bundles being scattered in many places.

The horse finally emptied all that was left about midway of the levee, and hastening to the river dumped the wagon into it and came near being drowned.

The horse was fished out and led to the stable, and the wreck of the wagon was later recovered.

The horse was frightened at an engine that was passing and while it had a rough experience it was not hurt.

PADUCAH PEOPLE MARRIED.

the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis. Repairing quickly to the Peabody, they were met by the Rev. W. K. Penrod, of Ennis, Tex., who united them in marriage. Mr. Edwards stated that their object in coming to Memphis to be married was simply to have a quiet wedding and avoid publicity, there being no parental objection or other impediment to the marriage.

"Mr. Edwards, who is 26 years of age, is the secretary of the Paducah Gas Light company, and is a young man of good business and social standing in Paducah. His wife had been teaching art in that place for four years, when they decided to come here and unite forces for life."

"Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will leave today for Paducah, their home."

The marriage of Miss Carrie Holton formerly of Paducah, but now of Murray, to Mr. Rufus Ward of the latter place will, as announced, take place tonight at the residence of the bride's brother, Mayor-Elect M. D. Holton, Elder S. F. Fowler of the Christian church performing the ceremony. The couple are very popular people, and have many friends in our town. Miss Holton is a daughter of Prof. H. E. Holton, now of Richmond, Va., who was a teacher of schools in Murray, Paducah and elsewhere, where he established a great reputation as an educator. She is a sister also of Mrs. Thos. P. Cook of Murray, and Mr. Henry Holton of Hopkinsville, and is an excellent young lady, loved and admired by a large circle of friends. Mr. Ward is a son of attorney R. K. Ward of Paris, and a grandson of Foggy Ward, deceased. He is a traveling salesman for the McCormick Harvesting Machine company, and has been located in Murray for over a year.

The wedding of Miss Daisy Blythe to Mr. Henry Knight in Fulton last night was one of the most fashionable and brilliant affairs ever held in Fulton. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist church, but the Episcopal service was used. Miss Flora Dicke of Paducah was the maid of honor. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock in the evening, and at 6:45 the couple left for New Orleans on a southern bridal tour.

The bride formerly lived here, and is one of the society belles of Fulton. Mr. Henry Knight is proprietor of the Knight hotel, and is one of Fulton's most prominent and foremost business men.

The following weddings have occurred in Marshall county within the past few days: Miss Mollie Provine and Mr. M. O. O'Daniel were united in marriage, Elder Duncan of Paducah pronouncing the ceremony. The attendants were Miss Elta Duval of Gilbertsville and Mr. Boone Hill of Sharpe.

Mr. Jesse B. Darnell of South

Marshall brought Miss Edna Harrell over to the county judge's office and Judge Shemwell pronounced the ceremony that made them man and wife. The bride is a daughter of Wm. Harrell of Magness, and the groom is a son of Nick Darnell of Glade section.

Miss Edna Puckett, daughter of Cephas Puckett of Mahon, and Willie Thweatt, son of Lee Thweatt, of Magness, were married at the home of Rev. A. T. Boulard of Magness, who officiated.

Miss Minnie Welch and Mr. Willie Lawrence of Gilbertsville were married.

Cards announcing the marriage of Mr. John C. Latham of New York City and Miss Elsie Kilgour Gaylord of Louisville, on Tuesday, have been received in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Latham will be at home after January 1 at "The Essex," New York City.

Mr. Latham is a member of the big banking firm of Latham and Co., New York, and was formerly of Hopkinsville. He is well and favorably known here.

Miss Gaylord is a prominent society girl of Louisville.

Mr. C. C. Dyson, the postmaster at Epperson, and Miss Goldie Cooper, of the same section of the county will be married tonight at the residence of the bride.

Both are prominent residents of the county, and Mr. Dyson is one of the best known residents of that portion of the county. His bride is the daughter of a prosperous farmer and merchant near Epperson. The license was issued this afternoon, and Mr. Dyson left immediately afterwards for Epperson. He is well known here.

Messrs. Ernest and John Arnold of Madisonville, and their brides, left this morning for their homes. They were married yesterday, the former in the afternoon and the latter at night, as announced in yesterday's paper.

NO APPOINTMENT.
JUDGE EMERY HAS DONE NOTHING, AND APPLICANTS CONTINUE TO APPEAR.

There is still another applicant for the place of coroner. Mr. S. Harkey is the latest. There are now nearly a dozen.

Judge Emery has done nothing so far towards appointing a coroner and says that he has given the matter little thought.

"I do not know what I will do just yet," he said this morning, "but do not think I will make the appointment very soon. It is possible that there will be several more applicants before I reach any decision."

LIKE ANCIENT STORY.

The Washington Post calls the afternoon papers "sun downers," and the Atlanta Journal adds: "The beauty about the 'sun downers' is that they make the morning papers read like ancient history."

Healthy Old People

say the main thing to do is to keep the stomach, liver and bowels in order if you want to keep well and live long. Good physicians say the same thing, too. The remedy called while not mysterious or miraculous in its curative qualities, is a simple formula prescribed by the best physicians for disorders of the digestive organs. Just little Tabules, easy to take, easy to buy and quick to act. If your trouble is Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Heartburn, and the like, no need of calling a physician. Ripans Tabules contain exactly what he would tell you to take. Permanent cure follows a fair trial. No uncertainty about it.

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

There is scarcely any condition of ill health that is not benefited by the medicinal use of a R.I.P.A.N.S. Tabule, and the price, ten for five cents, does not bear them from any home or justify any one in enduring ill health that can be cured. A family bottle containing six tabules is sold for 25 cents. For children the chocolate coated work, 10 for 25 cents, are recommended. For sale by druggists.

ALBERT BONDURANT

WILL BE CONVICTED.

THIS IS ALL DR. KASTENBINE'S
CONFIDANT WILL SAY
THUS FAR.

Louisville, Dec. 13.—Prosecutor Mayfield, of Jeffersonville, to whom Dr. L. B. Kastensbne has made a report on the analysis of Charles Goodman's stomach, declines to say anything about the matter further than this:

"Rathbun will be convicted." Dr. Kastensbne also declines to talk. His first public statement will be made when he goes on the witness stand. The case will be called in the Clark circuit court in Jeffersonville, December 19. Phipps and Dunbar, counsel for the accused, say they will be ready for trial, which would indicate that the state is not prepared. However a trial on the date indicated is altogether likely.

Goodman's body was found in a room in the Falls City Hotel, November 7. Rathbun registered as W. L. Ten Eyke, Watertown, N. Y., and had taken Goodman there the previous afternoon, registering him as Newell C. Rathbun. That night they returned to Louisville. Goodman (Rathbun) went back to the hotel drunk. The men occupied separate rooms.

The analysis, it is said, however, failed to reveal the presence of poison. If this be so, the prosecution is baffled. Rathbun seems happy.

AN ATTACK ON CHEESE.

All the highly flavored cheeses are condemned unsparingly by the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette. The flavor, according to this journal, represents simply putridity in various degrees, and is decidedly objectionable. Says the writer:

"What is the matter with the cheese? Simply this, that it has come to be an almost universal belief that coagulated casein and butter fat, which are its constituents, must be 'cured.' This 'curing' process is chiefly accomplished by time. It is not considered fit to eat until it is old enough and rank enough—from gradual processes of decomposition—to be buried. The average palate has been gradually educated to relish cheese after it has undergone butyric acid fermentation, and is, in fact, putrid. This is plain English, and it flies in the face of reigning authorities on gustatory standards. Certain brands of the stuff, as Roquefort, Limburger, and several other varieties, sell at enormous prices simply because they represented the ideal degree of rankness—putridity.

"This butyric fermentation has its proper bacillus, and in case of the special varieties present in Limburger and other delectable brands, the characteristic odor is vile enough and strong enough to bar attempts at counterfeiting or substitution. The flavor comports with the smell, and either one would cause a respectable canine to drop his astonished tail and sneak out of the rankest soap factory or tannery on the face of the earth.

"Every normal stomach rebels at it, and every normal palate repudiates it at sight, taste, or smell. Years ago, when all the small dairymen made little cheese for their own use, if not for the market, they began to eat it before it was a fortnight old, ate it as freely as they did bread, and never thought of it as being difficult of digestion. Nor was it. To put such compressed casein before a lover of Limburger would be to offer him an unpardonable insult. And yet, from a health standpoint, it is the only cheese that can be approved. "Of the semi-putrid, rank smelling, and acid-tasting stuff now sold for cheese, any person can not partake with impunity; and those who do eat it are compelled to be very sparing in their indulgence, making it a relish or condiment rather than a food. This is because it belongs with 'embalmed beef,' moldy bread, and gangrenous 'game,' for which pallid palates either profess or possess a gusto."

A LARGE DAMAGE SUIT.

Attorney John G. Miller has been notified that a $50,000 damage suit against the Illinois Central, in which he is interested, is on trial at Dyersburg, Tenn. It is of the administrators of the estate of a former station agent there, a man named Paccett, who was killed by cars several years ago, and who sued the company for $50,000 damages. His widow now resides here.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL EARNING.

The Illinois Central statement for October shows gross earnings of $3,706,679, an increase of $291,755. The net earnings increased $179,055.

NIGHT SCENE AT AVIGNON.

Historical and Antiquarian Interests in the Rhone Valley.

The moon was rising behind the palace at Avignon, throwing the walls into half-obscurity; a scene full of romance and charm. . . . Inconceivably beautiful was the evening light upon the river; the jeweled pathway thrown by the moon. . . . The silvery flashes danced and sparkled, and the rushing water seemed to hurry them away towards the far-off sea, where they decked the hair of the sirens, and lighted up their halls. And all the while the moon rose higher; a dead world, calm, cold, unsympathetic, yet full of a magic that will never die. A perfect night, a matchless scene; one of the most beautiful scenes on earth; steeped in romance; the ever-living influence shed abroad by Nature in her earthly paradises; the undying romance of the Middle Ages; of great deeds and achievements; passages in history that revolutionized the world, and will live as long as time rolls on.

The great days of the Popes of Avignon; the beauty of Joanna, before which all men bowed; the gorgeous pageants of which this river had been the arena. . . . We seemed steeped in romance and magic as we stood there, whilst the hours chimed; we gazed down upon the rushing waters; and upwards at the illuminated outlines of fort and palace; and yet higher at the dark sapphire sky, where the moon rode in silent majesty, and the stars followed in her train. And we asked ourselves where else we could equal all the beauties, all the historical and antiquarian interests that abound in this matchless Valley of the Rhone.—Charles W. Wood, in 'The Valley of the Rhone.'

SAV THE AIR WAS STOLEN.

Charge Is Made That "The Marseillaise" Was of German Origin.

The world has heretofore given to Rouget De Lisle the honor of having composed both the words and music of the "Marseillaise," but Karl Blind in a recent article endeavors to rob him of that distinction. It appears, according to Blind, that the melody was really composed in Germany and was the tune of the "erodo" of an old mass. The mass in question was written in 1776 by Holtzmann, the kapellmeister of the Palatinate and the original was discovered by Mr. Hamma in the musical library of the town's church at Meersburg. From the Palatinate, where Holtzmann composed the air, it is not a far cry to Alsace, and from Alsace the music easily got into other parts of France. It appears then, that Rouget De Lisle only wrote the words of the "Marseillaise" and set them to the old mass tune, introducing a quickened tempo for the purpose of martial effect in a battle song. G. A. Sala about eight years ago wrote in a London paper that the eminent French musical critic, M. Castil-Blaze, in his work entitled "Moliere, Musicien," published in 1852, absolutely denies that Rouget De Lisle wrote the music of the "Marseillaise." He asserts that it is a German canticle imported into France by Julien the elder, who played it in 1782 at the concerts of Mme. De Montessor. By altering the tempi church airs and secular airs are often interchanged, but it is a curious thing that the great battle and revolutionary song of France should really have been composed in Germany.—Chicago Chronicle.

Careless.

"He's a good physician in some ways," she remarked, "but he is careless, and that naturally hurts him." "Doesn't get his prescriptions mixed does he?" "That's just what he did in the case of Mrs. Jenkins." "Nothing serious, I hope." "Yes, it was. Not fatal, of course, but serious. He failed to acquaint himself with the easily afford a trip to Europe. I don't rest in the country when she could easily afford a trip to Europe. I don't think she'll ever have him again."

METHODIST THANK OFFERING.

Methodists north are going to end this calendar year with a round $15,000,000 of their $30,000,000. Thank Offering Fund. Of this large sum, all for strengthening existing enterprises, $5,800,000 goes to the endowment of colleges and seminaries; $250,000 to the fund for the support of worn out preachers; $2,000,000 to philanthropies and charities almost wholly to pay debts on buildings and $6,950,000 to pay debts on church buildings. In scores of cities the debts of every Methodist church have been, or are in precise process of being paid off. The mass meetings, designed to insure the raising of the remaining $5,000,000 are to begin in January, and are to be held in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Chicago. In other large cities no meetings are to be held, for the reason that in them the task has already been accomplished, and cities selected are intended to be national. Speakers at all of them are to be governors and United States senators. A personal letter is now going out, signed by the bishops and addressed to presiding elders, virtually telling the latter that it is up to them to get the rest of the big stint. A small percentage of such district leaders are still holding back, and some of their enthusiastic rivals have gone so far as to suggest that they be pensioned and retired in order to get them out of the way.

MOST POPULAR HYMNS.

It is said that the most popular hymns among English speaking Christians are:
First—Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me.
Second—When I Survey the Wondrous Cross.
Third—Jesus, Lover of My Soul.
Fourth—All Praise to Thee My God, This Night.
Fifth—Jesus, I M. v Cross Have Taken.
Sixth—Sun of My Soul, Thou Savior Dear.
Seventh—Awake, My Soul, and with the Sun.

STRUCK BY A CAR.

Messrs. E. W. Whittemore and W. B. Walters, the real estate men, were struck by a street car near Ninth Broadway yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock, and had a narrow escape. The horse shied and the car struck the going at good speed. Mr. Walters was hurled onto the car platform, where he lodged, while Mr. Whittemore was knocked about fifteen feet. The horses and remnants of the vehicle were pushed about twenty feet by the car. All escaped with a few bruises, but the buggy was demolished.

A FEW REASONS

WHICH ARE RAPIDLY MAKING A NEW CATARRH CURE FAMOUS.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has the following advantages over other catarrh remedies:
First: These tablets contain no cocaine, morphine or any other injurious drug and are as safe and beneficial for children as for adults; this is an important point when it is recalled that many catarrh remedies do contain these very objectionable ingredients.

Next: Being in tablet form this remedy does not deteriorate with age, or an exposure to the air, as liquid preparations invariably do.

Next: The tablet form not only preserves the medicinal properties, but is so far more convenient to carry and to use at any time that it is only a question of time when the tablet will entirely supersede liquid medicines, as it has already done in the medical department of the United States army.

Next: No secret is made of the composition of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; they contain the active principles of Eucalyptus bark, red gum, blood root and Hydrastin, all harmless antiseptics which, however, are death to catarrhal germs wherever found, because they eliminate them from the blood.

Next: You cannot cure catarrh by local applications to the nose and throat, because these are simply local symptoms, and such treatment cannot possibly reach the real seat of the catarrhal disease, which is in the blood; for this reason inhalers, douches, sprays and powders never really cure catarrh, but simply give temporary relief, which a dose of plain salt and water will do just as well.

Catarrh must be driven out of the system, out of the blood, by an internal remedy because an internal remedy is the only kind which can be assimilated into the blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets do this better than the old form of treatment, because they contain every safe specific known to modern science in the antiseptic form of this disease.

DESERVED BETTER.

"The Sorrows of Satan" is a strong, clever play, adapted from Marie Corelli's novel by that name. Two performances were given at the Kentucky yesterday, and both were fine. It is regretted that the patronage was distressingly poor. Both audiences were small, but appreciative. Seldom has there been seen here a better actor than Mr. Edward Mawson, who played the star role, Prince Lucio Rimmon.

NO TRANSFER MADE.

Through a typographical error it was reported that Mr. L. A. Lagomarsino had transferred his coffee house license. The mistake was made in the report of the council proceedings and Mr. Lagomarsino has done nothing of the kind.

SMALL DAMAGE BY FIRE.

The fire department last evening was called to Ross' grocery, on Ninth street, between Husbands and Bockmon, about 6 o'clock, by a small blaze from coal oil becoming ignited. The damage was slight.

The Guthrie, Okla., Gazette of Oct. 1st 1901, in speaking of "Shadows of Sin" Co., says: "Shadows of Sin" appeared at Brook's theatre last night. Their scenery of five complete acts was beautiful, the company is strong and evenly balanced and the play an intensely thrilling and interesting story of life at Sandy Hook, New York harbour. The comedy in the piece is original, and pure, and brought the audience from tears to laughter. Everything was exactly as represented, and the large and appreciative audience which filled the house thoroughly enjoyed the performance. The play and company are first class in every respect, and they are assured of a successful season, if last night's good performance counts for anything. Seats will go on sale Saturday morning.

—The appearance in this city of the William H. West Big Minstrel Jubilee is considered by our theatergoers as one of the leading amusement events of the year. Mr. West always presents a high grade entertainment. It can always be depended upon that his vocalists are the best singers to be found on the minstrel stage, that his comedians are the highest salaried and most prominent burnt-cork artists and that the special features will be new, original, entertaining and refined. Billy Van still remains the chief fun maker, associated with the new comers, McMahon and King and N. S. Carr, a quartette of comedians that is said to be the equal of any ever seen in a minstrel first part. The list of vocalists includes such famous and high salaried singers as Manuel Roman, America's greatest minstrel tenor; Clement Stuart, England's famous minstrel and concert hall tenor singer. The olio will introduce Billy Van in a new and very funny monologue rendered in Van's inimitable style. Seats now on sale.
